Evan D. Beecher is an associate in the Sacramento, California, office of Jackson Lewis P.C. He represents management in all types of employment disputes including harassment, discrimination, retaliation and wrongful termination cases in both state and federal court as well as in arbitration and administrative hearings.

Evan also defends employers in wage and hour matters, including class and representative action lawsuits. In addition, Evan provides advice and counsel to clients on a variety of employment practices including employee compensation and overtime exemptions, separation agreements, medical leaves of absence, employee handbooks and labor relations.

While attending law school, Evan served as a judicial extern for the Honorable Gary Fees, United States District Court, Central District of California. Evan was also chief managing editor of the Journal of Environmental Law and Policy.

Prior to joining Jackson Lewis, Evan practiced law at noted law firms in Sacramento and Southern California.
