The False Claims Act: How to Identify and Address Employee Complaints About Potential FCA Violations

This seminar will give participants a brief overview of the False Claims Act and the recent proliferation of retaliation claims brought under it. In doing so, we will focus on and answer three primary questions:

1. Could my company's business be implicated under the FCA?
2. What types of employee complaints are covered by the FCA's anti-retaliation provision?
3. How do I address employee complaints when I receive them?
