With the change in Administration, we are likely to see a shift in initiatives and priorities from the NLRB. As the Board shifts to the “right,” organized labor is almost certain to reinvigorate organizing efforts in order to protect its market share. Is your organization prepared?

This program—designed to equip even the most experienced labor practitioners with new and innovative strategies—will enable attendees to develop and implement a labor relations plan that addresses the varied organizing challenges employers may face in 2017. With a focus on pre-petition organizing and card-signing, this simulation will provide a new experience for those who have attended previously.

$795 per individual attendee, $695 for each additional attendee from the same organization.
