Johanna Sanchez is an Associate in the New York City, New York, office of Jackson Lewis P.C. She focuses her practice on representing employers in workplace law matters, including preventive advice and counseling.

Ms. Sanchez represents employers in disputes involving discrimination, harassment, retaliation, wrongful discharge, wage and hour, breach of contract and restrictive covenant issues before federal and state courts, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commissions, the New York State Division of Human Rights, the New York City Commission on Human Rights, and JAMS. She also provides practical, business oriented advice and counseling regarding various complex employment law issues, including wage and hour compliance, employee classification, and workplace discrimination and harassment matters.

Prior to joining Jackson Lewis, Ms. Sanchez was an associate at a regional defense firm where she gained valuable experience representing individuals, middle-market companies and large corporations in all aspects of workplace law.
