Jashoda Kashyap is an Associate in the San Francisco, California, office of Jackson Lewis P.C. Her practice focuses on representing employers in traditional labor and employment law matters, including union elections and unfair labor practice charges.

Prior to joining Jackson Lewis, Ms. Kashyap worked for a public entity defense firm in San Francisco where she represented employers in employment litigation matters, primarily involving discrimination, harassment, and retaliation. She also conducted investigations in response to discrimination, retaliation, and harassment complaints, and prepared DFEH and EEOC responses.

While attending law school, Ms. Kashyap externed for the California Northern District Court, was on the Hastings Women's Law Journal, and served as Co-President of the South Asian Law Students Association.
