

Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act

The CARES Act contains a myriad of provisions intended to infuse economic relief to individuals and businesses affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. Employers must understand how the Act, and any changes and updates, impact their organizations and the decisions they need to make on a daily basis.

Overview

On March 27, the CARES Act was signed into law, underscoring the extraordinary measures the federal government is taking to support businesses and employees impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. Key provisions for employers include the Paycheck Protection Program and expanded unemployment benefits and tax credits. Jackson Lewis' CARES Act Task Force is closely monitoring developments to guide our clients through this turbulent time.
