Change is constant—finite and monumental, by moment and over time. The alteration of our workplace and world since March has been profound, and we are committed to bringing you the information you need, when you need it. Our webinar series is evolving as well and will now be an ongoing series of 40-minute programs, allowing us to dig a little deeper into our topics, and provide additional analysis and guidance. In addition to the voices of our Jackson Lewis lawyers you have grown to trust, we will often be welcoming additional speakers to join our conversation.
