Jacob E. Brown is an associate in the Berkeley Heights, New Jersey office of Jackson Lewis P.C. His practice focuses on representing employers in workplace law matters, including pre-litigation claims and litigation, as well as preventive advice and counseling.

Prior to joining Jackson Lewis, Jake practiced at a prominent litigation firm in Philadelphia, where he regularly represented employers in federal courts, state courts, and administrative agencies in a variety of employment law matters, including those involving wage and hour claims, non-competition and non-solicitation agreements, and discrimination allegations. Jake's experience also includes counseling employers in preparing policies, handbooks, and other related materials to ensure compliance with state and federal laws while also serving employers' individual business needs.

Before entering private practice, Jake served as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable Michele M. Fox, J.S.C., of the Superior Court of New Jersey. During his time as a judicial law clerk, Jake assisted with various court proceedings and trials, performed legal research on a variety of complex issues, and drafted numerous judicial opinions. In addition to his responsibilities as a judicial law clerk, Jake also served as a certified mediator, where he gained experience resolving dozens of cases involving tort, contract, and landlord-tenant disputes.

While attending law school, Jake served as a judicial intern to the Honorable C. Darnell Jones, II of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and performed pro-bono work for the Pennsylvania Innocence Project.
