Joshua J. Cervantes is an associate in the Kansas City, Missouri, office of Jackson Lewis P.C., where he focuses his practice on a variety of employment litigation issues. Joshua manages an active litigation docket and zealously represents his clients in all aspects of litigation, including at the commission level as well as in both state and federal courts.

Joshua is a Kansas City native and is active in several organizations, including 2020 president for the Hispanic Bar Association of Greater Kansas City and on the board of the Mattie Rhodes Center in KCMO. His passion for the legal profession is seen in his strong work ethic and his immersion in and understanding of the complex personal, business, and legal issues of his clients. Joshua's clients rely on him to analyze their respective legal issues and develop an individualized strategic approach to representation based on each client's immediate and long-term goals.
