Timothy Hutchinson is an associate in the Omaha, Nebraska, office of Jackson Lewis P.C. A former paratrooper and cryptologic linguist for the United States Army, Tim understands that achieving employers' business objectives while maintaining legal compliance requires vigilance, subject matter knowledge and experience, and leaving no stone unturned. With a strength of purpose, Tim adopts a "client first, mission first" mentality when guiding employers towards optimal solutions to workplace disputes.

Tim's passion for employment law comes from recognizing that work is not simply something people do, but how individuals, businesses, and communities thrive. Combining the strategic skills developed in the service of his country and as an associate in a full-service law firm, Tim tailors his flexible legal advice to suit employers' needs and achieve pragmatic results, whether through comprehensive, proactive policy development or defense of contentious litigation when the need arises.

Additionally, Tim is an active member of the Omaha Bar Association's Public Service Committee and a founding member of the Notre Dame Lawyer Committee — Omaha Chapter.
