Tim Doolin is an associate in the New Orleans, Louisiana office of Jackson Lewis P.C., and a member of the firm's ERISA complex litigation group.

Prior to joining Jackson Lewis and in addition to working for two prominent Louisiana law firms, Tim clerked for the Honorable Robert James in the Western District of Louisiana, the Honorable Erica Grosjean of the Eastern District of California, and Justice Pro Tempore James Boddie of the Louisiana Supreme Court.

Tim also served as a staff attorney for the Northern District of Texas in Dallas, where he assisted federal magistrate and district judges with all types of pro se cases, as well as counseled habeas matters. Tim has litigated, or served as a law clerk on, a plethora of intricate cases, ranging from complex breach of contract matters to complicated habeas petitions.

Tim's extensive clerking experience in particular provides him with a unique insight on effective and persuasive legal writing and strategy that he uses to further his clients' positions in complicated matters.
